You can file a complaint involving the eligibility, school selection/enrollment, participation or transportation, with the school or school district following the school or school district's written policy along with the Public Education Department's (PED) procedures-

The school must provide notice of a dispute to the homelessness liaison using the dispute resolution form, and the LEA/State Charter School will have ten calendar days to review and make a final decision.

If a decision is not in your favor, the school homelessness liaison is required to initiate an appeal with the PED's State Homeless Coordinator using the PED's procedures. The parent, guardian or student have the option to also submit an appeal using PED's procedures.

The student experiencing homelessness or the unaccompanied youth has a right to be enrolled immediately in the school in which enrollment is sought until a final decision is made.
